

The Global Diversity Summit in Commercial Real Estate is partnering with H. Jerome Russell of H.J. Russell & Company to personally invite you to a fun filled day of relaxation, networking, and golfing at the exclusive Piedmont Driving Club (PDC) on Monday July 21, 2008. PDC is an 18-hole championship golf course designed by golf architect Rees Jones, located 15 minutes from downtown Atlanta.

Shuttle transportation to PDC will be provided for golf registrants staying at the Omni Hotel. The day will begin at 8:00a.m. Participants can enjoy breakfast and warm up on the practice range and putting green. Each foursome will be paired with a forecaddie and will have cold beverages included on the cart. A boxed lunch will also be provided at the turn. As the day winds down, golfers will have access to the open bar and light refreshments at the clubhouse, where they can fellowship before taking the shuttle back to the hotel.

Don't miss this exciting day on the greens and an opportunity to network with some of the industry's leading expert professionals. Please sign up now as this event will be limited to 32 individuals. Preference will be given to teams of 4 or 8.

As a sponsor for this event, you will not only benefit from VIP access to other Summit events, but you will also help GDS preserve our commitment to increasing diversity within the Commercial Real Estate industry. GDS events continue to demonstrate the value of inclusion, phenomenal results of talented professionals, and support college students pursuing careers in commercial real estate.

We want you to grow with us and build upon the success of the previous Summits. Without a doubt, these gatherings offer an exceptional experience for many and we are confident that the 2008 Global Diversity Summit will be an even greater success.

Should you have any questions, feel free to contact Vivian Gibson at (404) 610-9294 or Tony Johnson at (770) 709-1570. We look forward to seeing you in July!
